

Japanese Barberry

(Berberis thunbergii)

Key Facts:

- Country of origin: Japan
- Date of arrival: 1875
- Impact: outcompetes native trees and shrubs
- How to control it: herbicide
- Where it grows: in shaded or partially shaded areas
- How to identify it: bright red berries; thin spines on branches
- Planted as an ornamental

Current Range:

Spread by birds that eat
the berries

<https://www.invasivespeciesinfo.gov/profile/japanese-barberry>

<https://www.eddmaps.org/distribution/usstate.cfm?sub=3010>